

BROTHER SWING

The BROTHER SWING jazz band, recommended since 2003 by The Wedding House ("La Maison du Mariage") of Bordeaux, proposes to put its long and successful experience at your disposal for the music at your wedding party or banquet.

The band is formed by professional musicians from the Bordeaux and Bergerac areas in South-West France ("Sud-Ouest").

In order to offer its clients a broad and attractive range of services at the keenest prices, the band can adapt its formation appropriately according to your personal wishes, your budget and the space available (number and type of musicians, style of orchestration etc.). The band travels extensively throughout the Aquitaine, Dordogne and Lot regions, as well as the Charente region.

BROTHER SWING's repertoire is large and caters for all tastes. The instrumental music can be complemented by singers in English in such styles as crooning (Frank Sinatra, Nat King Cole or Dean Martin), covering most major jazz standards. Alternatively singers can perform in French with occasionally comic lyrics in the style of Henri Salvador or Moustache. This broad-ranging and eclectic performance capacity has made the band particularly popular with mixed French and British couples who request traditional American swing music (such as Count Basie, Duke Ellington or Benny Goodman).

Contrasting atmospheres with different rhythms and musical colours can be provided ranging from long romantic ballads, through medium tempo swing, New Orleans, Bossa Nova, blues, Latin Jazz and Be-Bop.

Carefully graded sound volumes, and modern and delightful visual effects come together to provide families with a pleasant and enjoyable time around the bride and bridegroom.

The favourable comments given after our performances have been, and always will be a subject of great concern and satisfaction for BROTHER SWING.
